THE 11ELEVEN11 PROJECT™

POISED TO MAKE HISTORY 11 Directors, 11 Producers, 11 Writers, 11 Films in 11 Weeks Lead by Film Industries Elite!

Atlanta, GA (February 12, 2012) On February 25, 2012, The-11Eleven11 Project™ a journey of a lifetime for talented dreamers who have tremendous stories to tell is slated to kick-off in Atlanta. In just 11 weeks, under the guidance of some of the film industries most documented veterans, 11 writers, 11 directors and 11 producers will be trained and coached to create 11 short films. The-11Eleven11 Project™ will provide a groundbreaking and revolutionary opportunity for aspiring and emergent writers, directors and producers to catapult their careers and become bona fide filmmakers.

The 11Eleven11 Project™ was created by Studio 11 Films in association with actor/director Kim Fields (currently Directing for Tyler Perry's House of Payne), award winning writer/director Ed Weinberger (writer for Cosby Show, Mary Tyler Moore, Taxi) and actor/producer Mel Jackson (Living Single, Deliver Us From Eva and Motives) to connect the creativity of producers, directors, and writers trained to successfully create and produce quality film products. The 11Eleven11 Project™ is a unique and revolutionary program designed for the next generation of creative artists who dream of a career as a screenwriter, film director or producer.

Only 33 people will be accepted into the prestigious program to become the honorary freshman class of The-11Eleven11 Project™ 2012. During the weeks of February 25 – May 6, 2012, an intensive hands-on training and mentoring boot camp will take place. Under the guidance of
