Serena and Venus William Lose Same Day

Our favorite tennis players Serena and Venus William both lost yesterday. YES-I cant believe it. Both Serena and Venus Williams were eliminated from Wimbledon's singles tournament on Monday, ending a streak of success at the grass event. WOW-this is the first time since 2006, neither Williams sister will play in the Wimbledon women's final. NOW that's one impressive record!! These girls are still the best in the game. It was a rough day and ISH HAPPENS!!

Moreover, the last time they BOTH lost was back in 2008. On May 30th 2008 to be exact. It was the Grand Slam tournament in the French Open's third round. I know because my Aunt Eula is a tennis fanatic!! HA...You thought I was going to say I was there huh? NOPE!!

Well, unfortunately, the Williams sisters won't be around for the women's quarterfinals Tuesday, which are: Cibulkova of Slovakia vs. No. 5 Maria Sharapova of Russia; Bartoli of France vs. wild-card entry Sabine Lisicki of Germany; No. 8 Petra Kvitova of the Czech Republic vs. Pironkova of Bulgaria; and No. 4 Victoria Azarenka of Belarus vs. Tamira Paszek of Austria.

Another Tennis Fact: It's the first time since 1913 that the last eight women at Wimbledon are from Europe — and, as it happens, eight countries are represented.
