Reggie Bush says good bye to New Orleans

The New Orleans Saints 28th first round pick for running back (and Reggie Bush's replacement) was awarded to Mark Ingram. Bush bid New Orleans a farewell tweeting "It's been fun New Orleans" on Thursday night. Reportedly Bush was offered a pay cut in order to remain on the team but declined it so he was not expected to return next season anyway. Bush was the # 2 overall pick in the 2006 NFL draft and was a key player for the New Orleans Saints even helping lead the team to win the 2009 Super Bowl, but Bush has had several injuries along the way including a broken leg which caused him to miss a total of 8 games. Those types of injuries in the NFL can lable you damaged goods and damaged goods are just not worth 11.8 million and bonuses. Now we wonder, where will Reggie go? Stay tuned 822 will keep you posted.
